

The Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) is the nation's most important anti-hunger program.

Whom Does SNAP Reach?

In Fiscal Year 2017, it reached:

- 684,000 Maryland residents, or 11% of the state population (1 in 9)
- 42,000,000 participants in the United States, or 13% of the total population (1 in 8)

Many Maryland households struggle to put food on the table. The most recent data show:

- 10.1% of households were “food insecure,” or struggled to afford a nutritionally adequate diet.
- 9.7% of the population lived below the poverty line.
- 12.4% of children lived below the poverty line.
- 8.2% of elderly lived below the poverty line.

SNAP reaches needy populations: 92% of eligible individuals participated in SNAP in Maryland in 2015, and 74% of eligible workers participated.

SNAP kept 104,000 people out of poverty in Maryland, including 47,000 children, per year between 2009 and 2012, on average. (These figures adjust for households' underreporting of benefits.)

What Benefits Do SNAP Recipients Receive?

SNAP targets benefits according to need. Very poor households receive more SNAP benefits than households closer to the poverty line since they need more help affording an adequate diet. SNAP recipients in Maryland received $987 million in benefits in 2017.

How Does SNAP Benefit the Economy?

Moody's Analytics estimates that in a weak economy, $1 in SNAP benefits generates $1.70 in economic activity. Households receive SNAP benefits on electronic benefit transfer (EBT) cards, which can be used only to purchase food at one of the 263,100 authorized retail locations around the country, including 4,000 in Maryland.
