

Kentucky TANF Spending

In 2016, Kentucky spent about $232 million in federal and state funds under the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) program. It spent 92 percent of these funds on core welfare reform activities, which include basic assistance, work activities and supports, and child care.

TANF Provides a Safety Net for Few Poor Families

In 2016, for every 100 poor families with children in Kentucky, only 20 received TANF cash assistance, down from 44 in 2001. During this time, Kentucky reduced spending on work activities and child care to help poor families find and keep jobs, even as the number of families with children below 50 percent of the poverty line more than doubled.

Federal TANF Allocations and State Maintenance of Effort (MOE) Requirements

- The annual federal TANF block grant has been frozen since its creation and lost more than a third of its value between 1997 and 2016 due to inflation.
- Since unspent block grant funds can be carried over to future years, a state may spend more or less than its federal block grant allocation in any given year. In 2016, Kentucky spent $146 million in federal TANF funds.
- Every year each state must also spend, from its own funds, at least 80 percent of its historical spending on poor families with children. (In some cases, this “MOE” requirement can be reduced to 75 percent.) In 2016, Kentucky claimed $86 million in MOE spending.
